What do I bring with me to have my tax return prepared?

- Social Security Cards or Individual Taxpayer Identification Number Cards for ALL people listed on tax return.
- All W-2 forms (Wage and Tax Statement) from all your employers for the year 2012. If you are filing a joint tax return, you'll need all your spouse's W-2 forms as well.
- Valid Driver's License or government issued photo identification card.
- Any and all 1099 forms 1099 you (and your spouse if filing jointly) received. 1099 forms report various types of income received (all interest, dividends, self-employment, unemployment compensation, social security, state tax refund, etc.)
- If filing jointly, spouse must be present to file electronically.
- Copy of 2011 return if available (especially if you itemized deductions).
- Additional items may be needed. For a complete list, please visit www.DenverABC.org/sites.htm.

What if I don't have Social Security Cards for everyone on the tax return?

You may also use the prior years' tax return showing you, your spouse and all dependents on the tax form. If you do not have that, you can either:

1. Go to the Social Security Administration Office on the 2nd floor (Suite 200) of 1500 Champa Street, Denver, CO 80202, and request new cards as well as a print-out showing social security numbers for you, your spouse and ALL dependents.
2. Get a prior year tax return transcript from the IRS Taxpayer Assistance Center at 1999 Broadway, Denver, CO 80202.
