Denver Mountain Parks: 100 Years of the Magnificent Dream

In partnership with Denver Mountain Parks Foundation, John published a book in 2013 Denver Mountain Parks: 100 Years of the Magnificent Dream. The Denver Mountain Parks have inspired visitors for more than a century. The 22 accessible parks and 24 mostly inaccessible conservation areas total more than 14,000 acres and comprise one of the most expansive and unique park systems in the West. Red Rocks, Genesee, and Summit Lake are just a few. This book features new John Fielder photographs, as well as then and now images made by Fielder from old postcards and other historical photographs. The photographs decorate a complete written history of the park system.

All of John's popular Colorado books and calendars will be available for purchase and signing. He donates 30% of sales back to non-profit sponsoring organizations.

The Jefferson County Historical Commission and the Boettcher Mansion are excited to host John Fielder's Denver Mountain Parks and Jeffco Open Space Photographs choreographed to beautiful music celebrating Jeffco's land protection heritage! The event is free to the public, desserts and beverages will be served.

Colorado's Great Outdoors: Celebrating 20 Years of Lottery-Funded Lands

When Coloradans voted to create a lottery in 1980, the issue put to voters authorized the establishment of a state-supervised lottery with the net proceeds allocated to municipalities and counties for park, recreation, and open space purposes. Great Outdoors

Colorado's mission is to help preserve, protect, enhance, and manage the state's wildlife, park, river, trail, and open space heritage. John Fielder was a founder of GOCO, and was appointed by Governor Roy Romer to the Great Outdoors Colorado Board in 1993, and served two four year terms.

The event will be held at the historic Boettcher Mansion, 900 Colorow Road, Golden, CO 80401 • jeffco.us/boettcher Please RSVP to: Dennis Dempsey at ddempsey@jeffco.us or call 303-271-8734.
